

As a Cirrus Certified Training Center with a fleet of every piston model Cirrus on our flight line, CalAir offers advanced transition and training courses from Initial Transition certification to Avionics 'differences' training.

Using factory designed training syllabi and SOPs, or Standard Operating Procedures, our transition course will make you safe, proficient, and confident to fly in Southern California's complex airspace.

CalAir also provides required 90-day, 6-month, 12-month recurrent training, in addition to the Landing Currency courses designed and recommended by Cirrus.
